

Working with Men

2005 Men's Shed Conference

Jeremy Hearne

Mensline Australia

Community Liaison Coordinator

Working with Men

Outline....

- Describe for you a typical caller to the Mensline Australia service
- Briefly outline the ‘what, why and facts’ about Mensline Australia
- Overview of the successful Mensline Australia counselling model

Working with Men

Mensline Australia .... What?

- Only national service of it's kind in the world. Auspiced by Crisis Support Services
- Confidential and anonymous telephone counselling support for men dealing with family and relationship concerns
- Staffed by professional counsellors expert in men's issues
- Available 24/7 from anywhere in the country for the cost of a local call

Working with Men

Mensline Australia .... Why?

- Enhance community service's response to men's emotional needs
- Encourage more help seeking by men
- Strengthen men's role in the family and relationships
- Support and enhance men's crisis management capacities

Working with Men

Facts and Stats ....

- In 2004-5 Mensline Australia answered 24,697 calls
- 80% of callers have family breakdown or relationship concerns
- 40% of callers live alone and have children
- Approximately 30% of callers identified social isolation and anxiety/stress as being a significant issue
- We receive 2 suicide related calls per day

Working with Men

Mensline Counselling Model: E-Men

- Engage
- Enlist
- Empathize
- Empower
- Educate
- End the call

Working with Men

---

THE BURDEN OF OUR MASCULINITY?

Working with Men

BARRIERS TO HELP SEEKING

Traditional Masculine Identity

- Hide Private Experience
- Maintain Control
- Act Invincibly
- Be Self-reliant
- Be Stoic
- Take Action
- Deny Pain

Traditional Counselling Expectations

- Disclose Private Experience
- Relinquish Control
- Express Vulnerability
- Seek Help
- Express Feelings
- Be Introspective
- Confront Pain

Adapted from G. Brooks, "A New Psychotherapy for Traditional Men"

Working with Men

WORKING STRATEGIES

Understand the man's internal frame of reference

Recognise the male sensitivity to hierarchy and power - Look for ways to equalise

Acknowledge seeking help as positive step

Think about the client's presentation - why now?
Customer, complainant or visitor?

Avoid jargon & use gender appropriate language

Working with Men

WORKING STRATEGIES

Have a conversation rather than do “therapy”

Work in a goal directed and solution-focused way

Men are "Problem-solvers" may want information to make an informed decision rather than understanding

Adopt the position of the naïve inquirer - ask permission before challenging

Understand that anger may be a defensive response

Be aware that some men may not be able to identify and express feelings

Thankyou

